Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

Creative Hospice Care, Inc. dba Homestead Hospice & Palliative Care ("Homestead") takes the privacy and security of our information very seriously. Regrettably, we are writing to inform you of a matter involving some of that information. This letter explains what happened, outlines the measures we have taken in response, and steps you may consider taking.

On March 31, 2022, we determined that a limited number of company email accounts were subject to unauthorized access at times between April 1, 2021 and March 31, 2022. We immediately took steps to contain the issue and began a detailed investigation with the assistance of outside cyber security firms to determine how the incident occurred and the types of information contained in the email accounts. During the investigation, on April 7, 2022, we also learned that some former Homestead workforce members did not return their work laptops. We have contacted the former workforce members to confirm that information contained on the laptops, if any, has not been misused or disclosed. After conducting a lengthy analysis of the data, our investigation indicated that some of your information was potentially a part of these incidents, and may have included your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number, driver's license number, state identification card number, payment card number, financial account number, username/email and password, and/or information provided to Homestead.

While we are not aware of any misuse of your information, we recommend that you remain vigilant by monitoring your accounts and as a precaution, we are offering you a complimentary one-year membership in Experian® IdentityWorksSM Credit 3B. You have until <<b2b_text 6 (Date)>> to activate your membership by using your unique activation code on the next page. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorksSM is completely free to you and we understand that enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on identity theft prevention and IdentityWorksSM, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary membership and information about identity protection, please see the additional information provided with this letter.

We deeply regret any concern this incident may cause you. To help prevent something like this from happening again, we are reinforcing education with our staff on data privacy and have implemented additional security measures to enhance our email security. If you have any questions, please call us at 1-855-788-2614, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Eastern Time, excluding some major U.S. holidays.

Sincerely,

Mariana Pope
Chief Compliance Officer

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
